

Definitions and sources

---

AGE STRUCTURE 1.1.2004

Children divided into kindergarten and school aged, people of working age and old people are in separate groups.

Source: Population statistics of Helsinki

AREA DIVISION

Districts: Helsinki's district division approved by the City Board on June 8, 1999

AREA RATIOS

Inhabitants per km<sup>2</sup> 1.1.2004

Jobs per km<sup>2</sup> 31.12.2001

Floor space per ha. 1.1.2004

BUSINESS PREMISES 2003

Business premises buildings are other than residential buildings. Offices are included in trade buildings.

Source: Helsinki City's real estate data system

CHILD DAY CARE 2002

Day care centres owned by the city and municipal family day care. The IMC:s estimation of the number of children in families having received a benefit for nursing their own children at home in 2002.

Source: Helsinki City Social Services Department.

DEGREE OF EDUCATION 31.12.2002

Source: Statistics Finland's register of completed education and degrees.

DWELLING HOUSEHOLDS 1.1.2004

A dwelling household consists of all those people living permanently in the same dwelling.

Source: Population statistics of Helsinki.

DWELLING PRODUCTIONS 1971-2003

Source: Helsinki City construction statistics 1971-2003

DWELLINGS 31.12.2002

Source: Statistics Finland

FAMILIES 1.1.2004

A family consist of

- a married or unmarried couple and their unmarried children, or either parent with her/his unmarried children

- a married or unmarried couple without children at home

A family can consist only of people living together. Singles are not included in the family population.

Source: Population statistics of Helsinki.

HEALTH SERVICES 2002

Source: Helsinki City Health Department.

HOUSING 31.12.2002

The mean size of dwellings is the ratio between the total residential floor space and the total number of dwellings.

Housing space is the floor space per person.

Housing density is the number of rooms per person.

Source: Statistics Finland

INCOME LEVEL 2002

The income per inhabitant has been calculated from the state taxable income of the whole population.

Source: Statistics Finland.

JOBS 31.12.2001

Jobs have been divided into five categories.

Production joins the IC categories C-F (mining, manufacturing, energy and water supply and construction).

Trade covers industries G-H (trade, hotels and restaurants).

Transport covers industries I (transport and information transfer).

Business services covers industries J-K (financing, insurance, real estate, cleaning and rental services plus technical services and business services)

Societal services covers industries L-Q (public administration and defence, education and research, health and social welfare services, recreation and culture, organisational and religious activities, and other services).

Jobs total contain the above mentioned categories plus forestry and agriculture.

Source: Statistics Finland

LABOUR 31.12.2001

Included in the labour force are all 15-74 year olds having been employed or unemployed on the census week.

Included in the employed labour force are all 15-74 year olds having been employed on the census week.

Included in the unemployed labour force are all 15-74 year olds having been unemployed in December 2002.

Source: Statistics Finland: data from work pension and tax authorities; Ministry of Labour's list of work applicants

LAND USE 2002

Land area

Residential buildings

Business premises

Streets, squares, roads etc.

Green areas, forests, fields, parks, sports fields, graveyards, etc.

Other areas, waste land, risk zones, military and other special areas.

LANGUAGE AND NATIONALITY 1.1.2004

Foreign languages = other than Finnish, Swedish or Lappish

Foreigners = foreign nationals

Source: Population statistics of Helsinki.

OUTDOOR PURSUITS 2002

Source: Helsinki City Sports Department and Public Works Department

POPULATION 1.1.1982-2011

1982-2003 Population statistics of Helsinki

2004-11 Population forecast for Helsinki

POPULATION CHANGES 2003

Source: Population statistics of Helsinki

SCHOOLS 2004

For each district, special schools are mentioned separately (Jewish School, Russian, French, English, International)

Source: Helsinki City Education Department.

SERVICE PLACES 2002

Source: The offices and departments and SeutuCD 2003

SOCIAL SERVICES 2003

Source: Helsinki City Social Services Department.

TRAFFIC 2000-2002

Source: Helsinki City Planning Department, its traffic planning section.