A wide-angle photograph of a modern hotel lobby. The space is characterized by a dark, polished floor with a prominent white geometric pattern of overlapping squares and rectangles. In the center, a long, dark reception desk with a scalloped edge is illuminated from below. Behind the desk, a large window wall is decorated with a complex, glowing yellow geometric pattern. Two ornate chandeliers hang from the ceiling. The lobby is flanked by two large, dark blue columns. To the left and right, there are seating areas with dark blue armchairs and small tables, accompanied by potted plants. The overall atmosphere is sophisticated and contemporary.
