

A control room with three people working at multiple computer monitors displaying video feeds. The room is dimly lit with overhead pendant lights. The people are seated at desks with various pieces of equipment, including keyboards, mice, and audio gear. The monitors show different video feeds, including what appears to be a virtual meeting or a game stream. The text 'Virtuaalisen kohtaamisen tekninen toteutus' is overlaid in the center of the image.

A vibrant stage performance with blue spotlights and a grid of video screens. The scene is filled with energy, featuring a band performing on a stage with a large video wall in the background. The lighting is predominantly blue, creating a dynamic and modern atmosphere. The video wall displays various scenes, including close-ups of the performers and wider shots of the stage. The overall aesthetic is high-tech and professional, reflecting the company's focus on event technology.
