- This figure is a complex map of the Helsinki metropolitan region, covering parts of Finland including Helsinki, Espoo, Vantaa, and Sipoo. The map is densely populated with symbols representing different types of land use, infrastructure, and environmental features. Key elements include:

 - Land Use and Infrastructure: Roads, railroads, airports, and various industrial and residential areas are clearly marked.
 - Environmental Zones: Numerous green and brown shaded areas represent different ecological and geological zones, such as Natura 2000 sites, forested areas, and wetlands.
 - Protected Areas: Specific areas are designated as protected, including Ramsar sites, Natura 2000 sites, and areas under the Convention on Biological Diversity.
 - Geological Features: Various geological formations are indicated by different patterns and colors.
 - Water Bodies: Lakes and rivers are shown throughout the region.
 - Boundaries and Labels: Numerous place names, road numbers, and administrative boundaries are labeled across the map.

The map also includes a legend on the left side providing a key to the symbols used throughout the area.

This figure is a detailed land use map of the Helsinki region, showing a complex network of land parcels, roads, and geographical features. The map uses a variety of colors and patterns to represent different land types and ownerships. A large inset map in the top right corner provides a detailed view of the central Helsinki area, including the city's boundaries, major roads, and surrounding urban and rural areas. The main map also includes labels for several locations, such as 'HELSINKI HELSINGIN' and 'SUOMENLAHTI FINSKA VIKEN'. A scale bar at the bottom left indicates distances up to 20 km, and a north arrow is present. The map is dated 'Kuntajako 1.1.2013' and 'Kommunindeling 1.1.2013'.
